Go for Gold at These Luxe Condos with Olympic Sports Amenities

JULY 29, 2021 IN REAL ESTATE

As the Tokyo Olympics kick off and unite fans around the globe, I wanted to propose a fun, timely round-up of luxury condos in NYC that offer sports amenities aligned with Olympic events. From new additions like skateboarding and sport climbing to all-time favorites like swimming and basketball, these amenity spaces promise something for every aspiring athlete. Inspired residents can practice their favorite sports or learn new skills at these striking amenities — all without ever leaving home.

Basketball

Situated in the Upper East Side's coveted Carnegie Hill neighborhood, 180 East 88th Street boasts a striking basketball court perfect for those looking to shoot for the stars after watching an all-time-favorite summer Olympic sport. The building's half-court indoor basketball court features soaring double-height ceilings, concrete design accents and an abundance of natural light. An incredible space, there's no better place to perfect your jump-shot and practice your free-throw. 180 East 88th Street is being developed by Joe McMillan's DDG and Global Holdings.
